Chemical Blast Kills 11, Injures 60

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — A savage blast—which claimed 11 lives and left at least 60 others injured ripped through a sprawling chemical plant here Tuesday and rocked this upper East Tennessee city of 26,000 people.

Today officials of the Tennessee Eastman Corp. began probing smashed section of the 400-acre plant in an effort to determine the cause.

The explosion occurred in the acid division of the aniline processing section where dyes are made. Officials said the building is operated by remote control and normally no workmen are inside.

Down town Kingsport—a mile and a half from the plant—was shaken and shattered glass from store windows littered the streets. The blast was heard 20 miles away in Johnson City.

"It happened just like that, no warning, didn't know what was happening," said Earl Whetsel, an Eastman pipefitter, "the blast, then glass and stuff flying around."

Fire touched off by the explosion raged for about three hours before it was brought under control.

An unidentified guard at a nearby ordnance plant said he was driving along in his truck when the blast occurred. "It sent my truck through the air for about 100 yards," he said, "but I landed right side up. I didn't know what had happened."

The plant a subsidiary of Eastman Kodak Corp., produces plastic, cellulose fibers, polyethylene and other chemicals.

About 8,500 persons are employed in the Eastman operation here.

Nixon Launches New York Drive

Reception in Jersey Buys GOP Candidate

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon kicked off a day of campaigning in New York City today with the assertion he can win the presidency if most GOP members, more than half of the independent voters, and 20 per cent of the Democrats support him.

The Republican presidential nominee, buoyed by what he described as "a tremendous" reception in doubtful New Jersey Tuesday hit a nonpartisan note in speaking at a breakfast meeting of party workers.

Enthusiastic Republicans overflowed a 2,000 seat ballroom to cheer Nixon and Mrs. Nixon last night.

The vice president was introduced by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, once his opponent for the Republican nomination.

Rockefeller told the cheering, flag-waving crowd that the country needs and wants Nixon and his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge.

Speaking directly to Nixon, Rockefeller said: "We need leadership of understanding and courage. Dick Nixon and Cabot Lodge can give it to us."

Nixon responded by saying that in the light of present world conditions America can settle for nothing but the best of leadership in the presidency. He dug at his opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, with the assertion that he was not going to say—as Kennedy has—that "this is the time for greatness."

The Republican presidential nominee was buoyed to one of the highest pitches of his drive for the presidency by a tumultuous reception accorded him and Mrs. Nixon by a cheering and chanting crowd which overflowed the 13,000-seat National Guard Armory in West Orange, N.J., Tuesday night.

Local Republican leaders publicly hugged and kissed each other at the thundering success of their efforts to demonstrate that the GOP nominee has a good chance of carrying doubtful New Jersey.

It was by all odds the most raucous, unruly crowd of enthusiasts Nixon has encountered in a campaign that formerly has been marked largely by polite partisan receptions. Local officials said some of those who attended parked as much as two miles away and walked to the armory.

In his bid for New Jersey's 16 electoral votes, the vice president traveled about 75 miles by motorcade. His crowds were good. They were as large, and sometimes larger, than those attracted by his opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, in his journey through New Jersey a couple of weeks ago. But until the West Orange appearance there was lacking the high pitch of enthusiasm for Nixon that Kennedy engendered.

South Africans Vote On Becoming Republic

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Long lines of South Africans voted today on the nationalist government's plan to make this member of the British Commonwealth a republic.

The plan—opposed by British-descended whites—could result in South Africa's being turned out of Britain's multiracial family of nations.

The radio of the white-supremacist government proclaimed: "This is the most crucial vote in the history of our country."

Both sides agreed it probably would be a record poll of 90 per cent of the eligible voters.

Australian Leads Counterattack By West at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Australia kicked off a blistering counterattack today against Premier Khrushchev, denouncing him as a hypocrite and appealing to newly independent nations to beware of becoming pawns in an international game.

The counterattack came in a speech prepared for the U. N. General Assembly's policy debate by Australian Prime Minister Gordon Menzies, as the Assembly pondered a neutralist drive pressing President Eisenhower and the Soviet leader to meet again face-to-face.

Prime Minister Nehru of India is attempting to apply all the persuasion of his powerful voice to rally Asian, African and other support behind the two-man summit proposal, despite the distaste for the idea expressed by both the U. S. President and the Soviet premier.

Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan, who had a 90-minute talk with Khrushchev Tuesday is pictured as trying to prepare the way for a Big Four meeting in the spring, possibly in Geneva. Khrushchev is said to want one in January or February, after Eisenhower is out of office.

Menzies accused Khrushchev of attempting to inflame leaders of emerging independent African nations with worn-out slogans about imperialism and colonialism.

Menzies, who saw President Eisenhower over the weekend, pictured the President as intent upon balking any Communist attempt to envelop the new African states in their own sphere of influence.

"He (the President) said in effect, and I most respectfully agree," said Menzies, "that we are not to look at our new colleagues as if they were voters to be collected or as pawns in a vast international game, but as independent, coequal and free."

The Soviet Union has appealed to former colonial areas with a proposal that the United Nations recommend immediate freedom to all dependent areas at once. Menzies commented tartly:

"I venture to say it is an act of complete hypocrisy for a Communist leader to denounce colonialism as if it were an evil characteristic of the Western powers, when the facts are that the greatest colonial power now existing is the Soviet Union itself."

Menzies said he was shocked at evidence that there were those at the United Nations who "appear to believe that by threats of aggression, by violent propaganda, by actual conquest, if necessary, they will extend the substance of their material wealth and the boundaries of their economic influence."

The Menzies attack was the strongest yet mounted against the Communists by any representative of the non-Communist world. It came in the midst of talk about new East-West approaches toward a climate for negotiation.

Kennedy Talks Unemployment

Says GOP Policies Cost Million Jobs

EVANSVILLE Ind. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, in one of his sharpest attacks so far, said today a million workers have lost their jobs because of policies backed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"Republican unemployment," Kennedy called it.

The Democratic presidential nominee chose this section, which has been hit hard by closing factories, to lash out at GOP economic views—and at Nixon.

In his prepared speech, Kennedy claimed Nixon has said, "You never had it so good," after traveling through distressed areas.

"I say Mr. Nixon has looked, but he has not seen. He has heard, but he has not listened," Kennedy said.

"When it comes to our economy, he sees no evil, hears no evil, speaks no evil."

Even though it has but 13 electoral votes Indiana has become a political battlefield this year. Nixon has been here three times. Henry Cabot Lodge, his running mate, has been here once. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, has also paid one visit.

This is Kennedy's first trip, but he gave Indiana the full treatment. His schedule called for speeches in Anderson, Muncie, Terre Haute and here before leaving for Louisville and a speech there tonight.

Nor is this all. Kennedy will be back in Indiana later this month. Kennedy, by the way, concedes he's running behind Nixon in this state.

"But in the last three weeks," he said Tuesday night, "I feel the tide has somewhat moved in our direction."

NYC Continues Efforts To Gain Control of B&O

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The New York Central Railroad, with the overwhelming backing of its stockholders, continued today its efforts to gain control of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

The stockholders, by a vote of 4,597,540 to 109,371, favored a stock-transfer offer made to B&O stockholders by the Central.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway also is attempting to gain control of the B&O.

About 200 stockholders were present at the special meeting Tuesday when the vote was taken.

Alfred Perlman, Central president, warned that the C&O's efforts must be blocked if the Central is not to suffer. He termed the Central's offer a defensive maneuver and said his road wanted a three-way merger with the B&O and C&O.

The C&O repeatedly has turned down this proposal.

Only 11 Saved After Plunge Into Harbor

Divers Probe Water; Most Passengers Trapped in Seats

BOSTON (AP) — Investigators probed the wreckage of a four-engine Eastern Airlines transport today as search continued for more victims of New England's worst air crash. Only 11 of the big airliner's 72 occupants survived.

The plane plunged into a narrow harbor bay between Logan Airport and the town of Winthrop just after takeoff last evening. The huge craft split in two and sank in comparatively shallow water. Most of the passengers were trapped in their seats.

Some of the dead floated to the surface like corks. There was a scene of horror in the setting sun as lifeless bodies strapped to seats drifted toward the muddy shore all day long.

Lighters lifted the broken plane parts to the surface today, and skindivers resumed the search for possibly 10 more bodies.

There were 51 bodies in the Boston mortuary, 48 of which were identified. All eleven survivors, including the plane's two stewardesses, were in hospitals. Many were in critical condition.

A mysterious "secret document" reportedly as missing was found floating in debris in a port-folio. State police said it was carried by a representative of the Air Force. It was turned over to the Air Force Office of Special Investigation.

The Electra's plunge was the second crash involving this type of plane within three weeks and brought demands for an investigation. It also was the first fatal crash of a commercial plane at the airport.

As the Civil Aeronautics Board ordered seven investigators to the scene, Rep. Steven B. Derouanian, R-N.Y., called for a congressional inquiry. Rep. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., calling for corrective action by the Federal Aviation Agency, said "structural deficiencies found in this airplane have not been corrected."

But Gen. E. R. Quesada, federal aviation administrator, said sketchy information available did not seem to show any relation between Tuesday's crash and previous accidents involving Electras.

The plane took off from Logan International Airport at 5:45 p.m. bound for Philadelphia, Charlotte, N.C., Greenville, S.C., and Atlanta. It came down about 200 yards offshore.

Among the 67 passengers were 15 Marine Corps recruits en route to Parris Island, S.C. Ten of them were among the known dead. At least three others were injured.

"The thing was split wide open," said Lt. Cmdr. Everett Cook, USNR, who saw the plane after it nosed into the water off the Winthrop Yacht Club.

"When I got there part of the plane was still afloat," said Cmdr. Donald Regan, USNR, one of the first to reach the scene. "A good many of the passengers were strapped to their seats and could not get out. The seats were floating. I noticed that their weight was pulling them over so that their heads were in the water."

"They were all a mess — blood, broken legs, split skulls and everything else."

Eastern Airlines at Miami at first said the pilot, Capt. C.W. Fitts, and copilot M.J. Calloway, survived. But later the airline could not confirm this and they could not be located in any hospital.

The body of Flight Engineer Malcolm M. Hall of Memphis, Tenn., was recovered.

Two stewardesses survived, identified by the airline as Joan Berry, 22, of Prentice, Miss., and Patricia Davies of Jacksonville, Fla.

"It happened so fast there was no time to think. We were up in the air — then suddenly we hit the water. I remember calling for the pilot and copilot. There was no answer," Miss Berry said.

"I opened the rear door and pushed myself out. The pain from my broken leg was so severe I passed out."

Hundreds joined in the rescue effort — police, firemen, owners of small boats, skin divers, pilots of Coast Guard helicopters and Navy ships.

Pittsburgh Pirates Down Yanks, 6-4, In Series Opener

The Pittsburgh Pirates clipped the New York Yankees, 6-4, in the World Series opener today at Pittsburgh.

The surging Pirates mowed down a Yankee rally which scored two runs in the ninth to moved one up in the classic. The tight pitching of starter Vern Law and relief hurling of Elroy Face stopped the Yanks on 13 hits. Art Ditmar, removed in the first with only one down, was the loser.

Here is the play by play:

FIRST INNING
Yanks—Gov. David Lawrence threw out the first ball to officially open the 100th World Series.

Pirates Ditmar walked Virdon on five pitches. On Ditmar's first pitch to Groat, Virdon broke to second and when nobody was there to handle Berra's throw, Virdon continued to third. It was ruled a stole base for Virdon and an error for Berra.

Court Refuses Goldfine Delay

BOSTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals has refused to grant industrialist Bernard Goldfine, 70, a delay of his tax evasion trial because of his physical condition. His counsel said doctors fear a suicide attempt.

Goldfine's trial which opened Monday in U. S. Dist. Court and was in recess Tuesday during arguments in the Court of Appeals, resumes today before Judge George C. Sweeney.

The textile executive who became a free man Tuesday after serving a 90-day sentence for contempt of court, is charged with evading nearly $800,000 in taxes.

Collections at 65 Per Cent For Pickaway Fund Campaign

The Pickaway County Community Fund reached the 65 per cent mark today.

So far about $21,000 has been collected. The goal is $32,300.

Six agencies are supported by the fund. They are Well - Child Clinic, Salvation Army, Youth Center, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Red Cross.

More than 500 workers in Pickaway County are now completing their solicitations. Although the campaign was officially over Monday, many reports still are to be made and follow-up calls are under way.

Fund chairman Robert K. Harrod said today that the organization will keep working until the goal is topped. He explained that shortening the campaign to two weeks has made it difficult for some solicitors to make all their calls.

HE SAID that telephone reports indicate the goal is attainable if some calls that were not completed in the two-week campaign are made.

Headquarters for the campaign have been shifted to the offices of The Circleville Herald. All captains are urged to report collections to Harrod at The Herald.

Radar Unit In Use Here

The Circleville Police Department's new radar unit is now in operation here.

Police Chief Robert Temple said the unit is in perfect working order. He said radar warning signs have been posted in various sections of the city.

Temple said he has observed that motorists in most cases slow down when they see the radar signs. He said no arrests by use of the unit have been made yet.

According to the chief, the radar will be used mostly in school zones and heavily congested traffic areas to insure safety.

Father Admits Bank Holdup After Arrest

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Joseph E. Evans 55, for 15 years an Erie Railroad employee, was arrested early today by one of the road's detectives. Police said he admitted his part in a father-son bank robbery here last month in which $62,628 was taken.

He came back to Akron on his railroad pass and had only $3 in his pocket after a trip to Chicago and Las Vegas, officers said, in which he spent some $13,000.

Capt. Carroll Cutright said Evans admitted taking part in the holdup, Akron's largest bank robbery, but contended his companion was a friend named Ted.

However, FBI agents in Pittsburgh report Evans' son, William Ellsworth Evans, 16, has confessed helping his father take the money. The wife and mother, Mrs. Kathryn Evans, 50 of Pittsburgh, has turned over $47,700 of the loot to federal agents, they said.

Council Adopts Resolution For Curb, Gutter Erection

City Council last night adopted a resolution for the construction of curbs and gutters at a section of E. Mound St. east from Mingo St.

A vote by Council President Richard Penn was needed to break a deadlock in the balloting. Councilmen David Crawford, Dudley Carpenter and Boyd Horn voted against the measure. Affirmative votes were cast by Councilmen John Jenkins, Charles Kirkpatrick and Harold Clifton, Councilman Joseph Bell was absent.

The voting followed a lengthy discussion concerning the issue of curbs and gutters in the entire city as well as the proposal on E. Mound St.

Councilman Jenkins introduced a petition signed by most of the residents of the area concerned on E. Mound St. calling for erection. According to estimates, total cost for the curbs and gutters will be about $3,000.

JENKINS said many of the residents have expressed willingness to pay outright for the construction. According to the local solons, residents not paying outright will be assessed.

All Council members noted merits of the resolution, but Crawford, Carpenter and Horn said the measure could bring future repercussions concerning curb and gutter erection in other sections of the city.

President Penn said the resolution authorizes the city to go ahead with construction on E. Mound St. However, he pointed out that the resolution passed last night applies only to the E. Mound St. area.

The lawmakers also heard a proposal for the closing of alley No. 2, located halfway between Ohio and Huston Sts. and running from Scioto St. west to Maplewood Ave. The proposal was made by property owners in that area.

The proposal stated that the alley serves no public use. The solons agreed that introduction of the ordinance be tabled until the safety committee makes an investigation of the area.

Councilman Carpenter submitted for study the city's financial report ending September 30. The general fund balance was reported at $60,949.45. He pointed out that the street construction, maintenance and repair fund balance has dipped to $5,372.86. He said this fund may need additional future help from the general fund.

Soviets Not Catching Up

Some astute international observers continue to speculate on how substantial reports are of deteriorating relations between the Soviet Union and Red China. Rival utterances of leaders of the two regimes are examined.

Consensus of opinion seems to be that Chinese leaders want to become aggressive up to a point of forcing the West into war or groveling. Russian leaders are widely assumed to favor a course of applying pressure more slowly but not less firmly.

The Soviet Union is reported to be taking most of its technicians out of China with the ostensible intention of slowing down that nation's industrial development. Reports of Red China's progress seem to be greatly exaggerated. If the Russians stop aiding with materials and advice, the Chinese will be many years in attaining impressive industrial power.

Wishful thinking makes the possibility of a schism between the two leading communist powers extremely attractive to the Battle of Britain Glorious

"I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat."

"Let us therefore brace ourselves to our duties, and so bear ourselves that, if the British Empire and its Commonwealth last for a thousand years, man will still say: This was their finest hour."

"Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few."

These immortal phrases of Winston Churchill that will ring across the centuries so long as free men recite their histories form the framework of recollection of the Battle of Britain, fought above the English skies just 20 years ago.

The first was Churchill's speech to Parliament after it had named him prime minister during the catastrophes in Belgium and France which threw the beleaguered English back upon their own resources alone.

The second was Churchill's exhortation to the people of the United Kingdom as they waited the dreaded attack across the

Indoor Forests: A New Problem

NEW YORK (AP)—I don't know about your house, but in our house we are having trouble with our indoor forest.

Perhaps where you live you don't try to raise the outdoors indoors. You grow inside and let the trees grow outside.

This is the approach to nature I was brought up to believe was natural.

Well, in the big city they don't always do things that way.

My daughter Tracy, 7, is in the second grade now, and she keeps coming home from school with a tree in her hand. Well, anyway, an embryo tree, a seedling in a can.

"What is this?" I ask.

"My homework."

"What do you mean your homework?"

"I bring it home and watch it work—I mean grow. Then I bring it to class and show it, then I bring it back home and let it grow some more, then I bring it to class again, and then I—"

Well, she doesn't have to go any further. I get the general idea. Instead of having a child go out and look at a forest, they have her plant one in her father's living room.

This is progressive education. It saves the child from walking. She can sit down in her own home and water her wilderness and watch it grow.

It doesn't work out that way in our house, however. The first time Tracy brought her own tree home from school I was afraid. I feared that in time, on some future lazy weekend, I would be lifted from my usual armchair lethargy and thrust atop a twining limb of greenery to the astonishment of our neighbors.

Well, thanks to our cat, Lady Dottie, I am in no danger of being tree-borne immediately.

I am not sure whether the tree in the can my daughter brought home hopefully the other day is the third or the fourth effort on the part of her and her teacher to make our house a wilderness.

In any case, Tracy waters it with loving care and croons little love songs to it, and it grows during the sun of the day. But at night Lady Dottie creeps up on little fog feet and eats all its leaves away. It seems cats kept indoors have a pent appetite for green and growing things.

I'm not sure how long this can go on, or whether it is fair for a man to let a cat cause his daughter to flunk nature study in the second grade.

I intercepted the following brooding letter from Tracy to herself: "A tree that loses its leaves in winter is deciduous. My maple tree will have bare branches."

There was also this further unexpected fruit of her horticultural learning Susie, her little friend down the hall, observed during one of those aimless generalities so pleasing to children. "My daddy is fatter than your daddy."

"Yes, he is," Tracy agreed but added proudly: "My daddy is more deciduous than your daddy."

Lodge Surprises Politicos

It would seem that politicians of both parties are startled at the popularity of Henry Cabot Lodge, the Republican candidate for Vice President. The only reason for the startle is that politicians are only too often behind the times. Those at the top of the heap rarely catch up with the attitudes of the ordinary people who attend to their own affairs and hold their own opinions.

For nearly eight years, Henry Cabot Lodge has been a television star. He has been standing up to the Russians, man to man, debating upon the issues of the day, defending his country from abuse and insult.

Every day, millions of people, particularly women at work in their own homes, have had their television sets tuned in to these debates whenever they occurred.

Perhaps it started as a rebellion against the incessant bleating of horrible music which radio produces ad nauseam until one could shriek even as the queer, dissonant voices of the so-called undefinable singers shriek.

At any rate, these audiences saw an American give as he got. Lodge did not say, "I'll answer you tomorrow after I have had a consultation with some deskman in the State Department." He answered then and there. He stood up and defended his country. And he made his answer stick.

What the politicians have missed these many years is that the ordinary people of this country, the unsophisticated ones who live in communities not in enormous cities, and even many city dwellers, have never been altogether sold on the idea that good will to all mankind means that the United States should cringe and crawl before every foreigner who rises in the United Nations to call Uncle Sam a bum.

Whereas internationalism has made a deeper impression upon this country than is good for any people, it has not altogether removed all sense of self-respect and pride.

Thus Henry Cabot Lodge fitted a mood. He stood up and answered back.

So he became popular and the politicians missed the point. They were looking for a photogenic Vice President who would not look as prim as Richard Nixon. When taxes are high and the dollar is low and there is fear that the sons might go to war as husband and brother went to war, women, looking at television are not interested in politicians' jokes. They want men who look serious and whose voices have a ring of sincerity.

So Henry Cabot Lodge quietly became a hero and the politicians missed it. Were it not for President Eisenhower, Lodge would not have been thought of. Perhaps the president watched the United Nations debate on television, too. The Russians missed it altogether. Of course, they do not quite understand why we have Vice President. They do have a number of deputy premiers but they are quill, lifeless technicians who do not interfere with such rulers as Stalin or Khrushchev.

They cannot understand the un-derstudy role of the Vice President; his main function of waiting around for the President to die. In Russia, presumably if a man has such a role he would make suitable arrangements not to wait too long. How little they know about men in this country is evident in the text of a radio profile of Nixon given to the Russian people on July 4, 1959:

"According to press reports, the opening of the U. S. exhibition in Moscow on July 25 will be attended by U. S. Vice President Richard Milhouse (sic) Nixon, who was born in 1913. At Duke University he received legal training and after completing his studies for several years in private law practice. Later he worked as an employee in the state apparatus of the Republican Party."

"Nixon's political career began in 1946 when, with the active support of influential Californian industrialists, he was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives from the State of California. In 1950 he became a Senator of this state, representing the conservative wing of the Republican Party. In 1952 the so-called Old Guard of this party insisted on nominating Nixon for the post of vice president. In 1956 Nixon was again elected to this post."

"Being one of the top leaders of the Republican Party, he is looked upon as a very likely candidate of the Republicans for the post of U. S. president at the elections in the autumn of next year."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

I MET JOE E. LEWIS, the impetuous night club star, in Miami Beach one evening and asked him, "How are you doing at the track this season?" "Great," enthused Lewis. "I made $8,000 at Aqueduct, $14 grand at Saratoga, and $9,000 at Hialeah." "Of course," he added after a moment of reflection, "that doesn't include my losses."

Owner of a vast timber tract sent out a crew of fifty husky men with three women to do their cooking, and told the camp boss, "Don't send me lengthy reports. A couple of key figures each week will keep me abreast of things."

The camp boss' first report, a fortnight later, read simply, "Six percent of your men have married a hundred percent of your women."

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was just as if the trees bent under a big wind and then shook the dust out of their hair and stood straight again as the wind passed.

Nikita Khrushchev, after two weeks of rocking and shocking the United Nations with his demands and threats, still leaves the world guessing as it did before he arrived: Why did he come here?

He has accomplished nothing visible. If he wanted to win over the neutrals, there is no sign he did. If he wanted a meeting with President Eisenhower, he did his best to prevent it.

Possibly he did want a meeting with Eisenhower. He didn't say so. He didn't say he didn't. By not slamming the door tight, he left it a little open. Yet, he didn't quite do that, either.

He said he would meet with the President but only on terms he knew Eisenhower wouldn't and couldn't accept. He wanted the President first to apologize for the flight of the American U2 spy plane over Russia.

Then Eisenhower made a summit meeting impossible any time soon by saying nothing doing until American and Russian representative first met to make sure Khrushchev meant business.

Khrushchev tried to save face then by saying what he had said before—that he would not meet with Eisenhower, either, until the President apologized for the U2. This was neither shrewd nor clever. It was an almost childish piece of tit-for-tat.

If not a summit meeting, then what did the Russian want?

In his very first speech to the United Nations he said he wanted disarmament, and in the same speech said he wanted the United Nations to get rid of its one-man secretary-general and set up three secretaries.

One would represent the West, on the neutrals, and one the Communist bloc. But this was a wrecking expedition since, under Khrushchev's plan, any one of the three secretaries could veto what the other two wanted to do.

When he realized he had received a cool reception on this—even among the neutrals to whom he was bidding hardest — Khrushchev then threatened. He said there could be no disarmament unless the United Nations was revised to suit him.

This didn't get anywhere either but it was a piece of outright bullying which could not escape even the most retarded among the neutrals.

Khrushchev demanded that Red China be admitted to the United Nations—a move the United States opposed—and prospects are that Red China will not be admitted.

A pigeon launched in a race from Dulken, West Germany, has just returned to its home nest. Maybe the bird-brained critter thought it was entered in one of the 1960 Olympic events!

In the Congo the president and the premier tried to fire each other from their jobs. Guess we've got to blame it on the unseasonable September heat wave.

Because of a shortage of fowls, Cuba has reinstated its chickenless Wednesdays — news item. Sure looks like Fidel has laid an egg!

We doubt if British Field Marshal Montgomery will try to answer that former sergeant who wrote a book criticizing him as a military leader. By this time Monty probably knows you can't win an argument with a top kick.

The U. S. has won most Nobel prizes, a total of 56 — Factographs. That, says Aitch Kay, is a truly Nobel showing.

The camel is one of the homeliest and most bad-tempered of animals — nature item. Well, naturally, one would follow the other.

Still another expedition sarts up the Himalaya mountains in search of the Abominable Snowman. For a guy who is never around, Old Bommy certainly gets a lot of publicity!

Those melancholy days, as the poets describe 'em, are really here for the fellow who suddenly realizes he'll have to buy new over-shoes, a new overcoat and new long undies.

It has become almost common practice in American journalism now to accept as a fact a reported ideological split between Khrushchev and Red China on the grounds that Khrushchev insists war with the West is not inevitable while the Red Chinese communists insist it is.

It is possible this is part of a plan agreed to between Khrushchev and his Chinese allies for this purpose: to soften the West into thinking Khrushchev is a man with whom peaceful and satisfactory settlements can be worked out. If the West buys this idea, it may then be inclined to slacken its defenses and will resist Red advances.

That would be a great and cheap victory for communism. But Khrushchev's performance at the United Nations, instead of demonstrating how reasonable he is to do business with, has been all to the contrary.

Ike Won't Head Another College When He Retires

WASHINGTON (AP) — Universities looking for new presidents next year had better not count on Dwight D. Eisenhower. White House callers reported today.

The subject of another possible post at the head of a university after his term expires came up when the president met with a group of prospective college students who have won Amvets scholarships.

Members of the group quoted him as saying that when he retires this time it will be just to rest. Eisenhower served as president of Columbia University between his last active military command and his first campaign for the presidency.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Organizing Chattanooga youngsters into a Junior Deputy Sheriff organization turned out to be a pretty good idea. Deputies Eddie Curbin, 11, and John R. Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You Already Have an Excuse

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 and have 4 children and am expecting my 5th in December. I sometimes get migraine headaches so bad I feel like the top of my head is coming off. We have a dog and two cats and our dog is going to have pups.

My mother-in-law asked me to take in a relative I've never seen—a teen-age girl with two children. She's getting divorced and wants me to care for her children while she works. My husband has rehearsals here three nights a week for his barbershop quartette and I give trombone lessons in our basement. I also run an answering service for a loan company and I don't see how I can take in this girl and her children right now. What excuse should I use?

BUSY LADY
DEAR BUSY: EXCUSE? You don't need an "excuse." Just give her the facts, Ma'am.

DEAR ABBY: The wife of a dear friend took her own life recently. We wish to express our sympathy to the family, but are hesitant about sending a note under the circumstances. What is the proper way to handle this? We don't want to do anything that would embarrass or offend the family.

ANXIOUS FRIENDS
DEAR FRIENDS: By all means, express your sympathy to the family. Just don't make any reference to the manner of the death.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, Cecelia, is 26 and single. She just returned from a vacation at a "Naturalist Camp". She just told us it's a "nudist resort." I've been in bed with a high fever ever since I found out. Her father says if this ever gets out we'll have to leave town as he is an elder in the church.

I told Cecelia she needs to see a head doctor. She said we should go. She tells us with a straight face that clothing the body creates inhibitions and no one need be ashamed of his body—unless his posture is poor. Are we old fogies

Truth Squads: Democratic, GOP Versions

NEW YORK (AP)—A new version of the Republicans' "truth squad" has been announced by the Democrats. They call it "the lie detector squad."

Four attorneys will trail Vice President Richard M. Nixon when he campaigns around New York Wednesday "to see that he sticks to the truth," the Democrats said.

Anthony Akers, executive chairman of New York Citizens for Kennedy and Johnson, said the "new Nixon" is rapidly descending to the level of the "old Nixon" and "for this reason we must be doubly alert to his use of the lie, the half truth and the use of innuendo."

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy missed 331 Senate roll calls in seven years, says the Republican "truth squad" trailing the Democratic presidential nominee.

At a news conference Monday Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., displayed a long printed sheet which he said was a list of roll call votes missed by Kennedy since 1953. He said it didn't include 36 absences while the Massachusetts senator was ill in 1955.

Scott also charged that Kennedy was absent during most of the recent Senate debate on medical care for elderly persons.

Small Fry Burglars

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Police think it was a gang of small robbers who broke into the Rex Jeans home.

Missing were two bicycles, two tricycles and a piggy bank containing about $15.

But scattered about on the floor, police said, were pieces of jewelry valued at about $3,000.

McArthur To Get $47,587 Grant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grants to 19 communities to help finance sewage disposal projects were announced today.

The Public Health Service listed the communities, the amount of federal grant and estimated total cost of the projects. They included:

Ohio—Weston, $115,393 and $387,146; McArthur, $47,587 and $170,000; Loudonville, $103,785 and $385,740; and Bradford, $114,695 and $411,000.

University of Wisconsin scientists say the water from which fish are taken apparently influences the flavor of the fish.

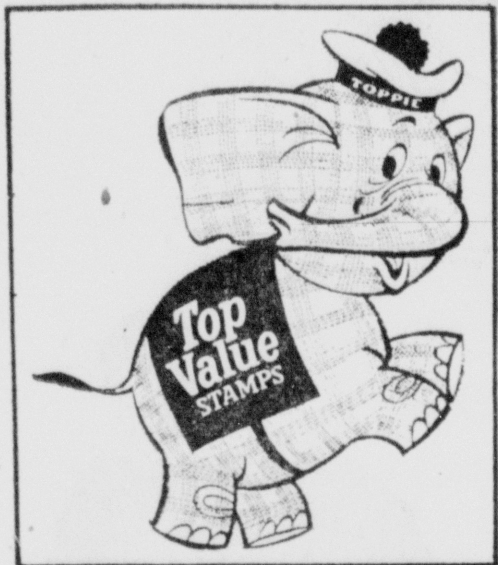

14 PUPS, ONE MOTHER—Chicago veterinarians were surprised when a Doberman Pinscher owned by Charles Mutlock gave birth to these 14 puppies.

Guba To Limit Size of Papers

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government has ordered a limitation of 16 pages daily and 24 on Sundays for all Cuban newspapers in what it called an effort to conserve scarce paper and protect the national economy.

The order, signed by Commerce Minister Raul Cepero Bonilla, warned that any infringement will lead to criminal action against the publishers.

Banks Bright Spot
In Earnings Picture
As Year Nears End

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Early reports show profits for the summer quarter running seven per cent behind year ago figures. But the total holds fairly close to that in the second quarter, and the number of companies running ahead of last year is about the same as those falling behind.

The director of the U. S. Budget still thinks that total corporate earnings for 1960 will equal record breaking 1959 but not surpass it, as was rosy predicted at the start of the year.

Prospects for the just-started fourth quarter are for at least an even break with the final three months of last year. The gloomy note in that prediction is that last year saw three-quarter profits clipped in the steel and allied industries by metal workers' strikes and profits of other industries hurt in the fourth quarter by strike-caused shortages.

So just an even break this year isn't too comforting.

A bright spot in current earnings reports is furnished by the banks. The majority show earnings as good or at least even with last year's summer quarter and ahead for the first nine months as a whole by anywhere from 5 to 27 per cent.

Higher interest rates than last year helped the banks in the first part of this year. But the last three months show the results of a drop in total demand for loans, plus the cut Aug. 22 to 4½ from 5 per cent in the basic interest charge for business loans.

Cash dividends also have stayed ahead of last year despite the noticeable squeeze on profits.

For the first eight months of this year the total is $7.8 billion, six per cent better than the previous year. The trend may last through the final three months of the year since many corporations hold dividend rates in spite of profit slips.

The current profit squeeze worries not only management and stockholders but also the U. S. Treasury.

It had counted on corporate income taxes bringing in $23.5 billion when the budget was drawn in January. But now the budget director says $21.5 billion is a likelier figure, with higher spending cutting any Treasury surplus by even more than that drop indicates.

Coyotes Find Good Eating
Around Film Stars' Homes

By BOB THOMAS
AP MOVIE-TV WRITER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lo the lowly coyote, howling in the hills a buckshot blast from Hollywood and Vine.

Howls are also coming from residents of the brush-covered slopes above Hollywood, who claim the predators are snacking on household pets. Reported casualties: eight cats, an undisclosed number of ducks and guinea pigs.

One woman said she had to flush a coyote from her patio; other residents complained of the animals strolling across their lawns. A dozen women on Tiger Tail Road staged a protest meeting and petitioned City Council for help.

Joining the anti-coyote forces was Dick Powell, who said that the varmints practically drove him from his Mandeville Canyon ranch to the settled confines of Beverly Hills.

"There were millions of them up where we lived," he complained. "They killed several of oursheep and some calves. We could hardly sleep at night. They'd get together and cackle like a convention of women."

"They make nice music," corrected Lauritz Melchior, who occupies an aerial atop Mulholland Drive. "I have done a great deal of hunting in my life, and I love the sounds of the jungle."

The influx of coyotes around peopled areas has resulted from the depredations of their normal hunting grounds by brush fires and subdividers. The area stretches from the heart of Hollywood to the sea. What can be done?

One of the handful of trappers licensed by the state says not much is possible. The trapper, who declined to be identified, said the coyotes could only be poisoned by cyanide, which might claim more pets and children than coyotes.

The other method would be iron traps, also risky in populated areas. "I wouldn't be interested in the job," he said. "It's too big—there's thousands of 'em up there. And there's no money in it. Northern coyote pelts can be sold—you'd be surprised how many fancy fur coats are dyed coyote. But Southern California coyotes are too many."

POLYGAMY CHARGED—The sheriff's office in Las Vegas, Nev., arrested these five people on suspicion of polygamy, and for investigation of "moonlight marriages." Roger Ward, 26, is charged with having more than one wife. Mary Ward, his legal wife, is accused of being an accessory to notorious cohabitation. George Briscoe, 44, is charged with permitting his 17-year-old daughter Donna to "marry" Ward. Daughter and mother, Mrs. Thelma Briscoe, are shown under arrest, the mother on contributing charges.

Paradise Would
Bore Him, Noted
Author Declares

LONDON (AP) — At 86, author W. Somerset Maugham talked today about women, literature and death.

"As far as I can judge, with women it's all take and no give," he said. "There must be some women who are not liars. I know a few women I am extremely fond of, but at my age, one's attitude is rather different."

"I am a rationalist, so I can face death with absolute equanimity. I don't believe in afterlife. I don't have to face the prospect of eternal boredom in paradise."

"I read 'Lady Chatterley's Lover' when it first came out and, to tell the truth, found it rather boring. I read the first 74 pages of 'Lolita' and was too bored to go on. Shocked? It takes more than that to shock me. Nothing shocks me—except cruelty."

Sabin Polio Vaccine
Results Excellent

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Albert B. Sabin, Cincinnati researcher, says his new live-virus polio vaccine apparently has cut the disease down to virtually no cases in some iron curtain countries. After his return this week from a European tour, he said the vaccine was a success in Russia, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Hungary. Earlier this year, the U. S. Public Health Service approved Dr. Sabin's virus strains as the models for commercial making of the live-virus vaccine in America.

Weeds cost every farmer in the United States about $500 a year, according to Ohio State University's Extension agronomists.

150,000 Receive
GOP Invitations

CLEVELAND (AP) — Invitations to see and hear Vice President Richard M. Nixon at Public Hall Thursday night have been sent to voters in the 22nd and 23rd Congressional districts.

About 150,000 invitations have been mailed, an official at Cuyahoga County Republican headquarters estimated Monday.

Seating arrangements are planned for 15,000 in the main hall and adjacent music hall. The Republican presidential candidate's speech will be carried over loud speakers to an overflow crowd outside, an official said.

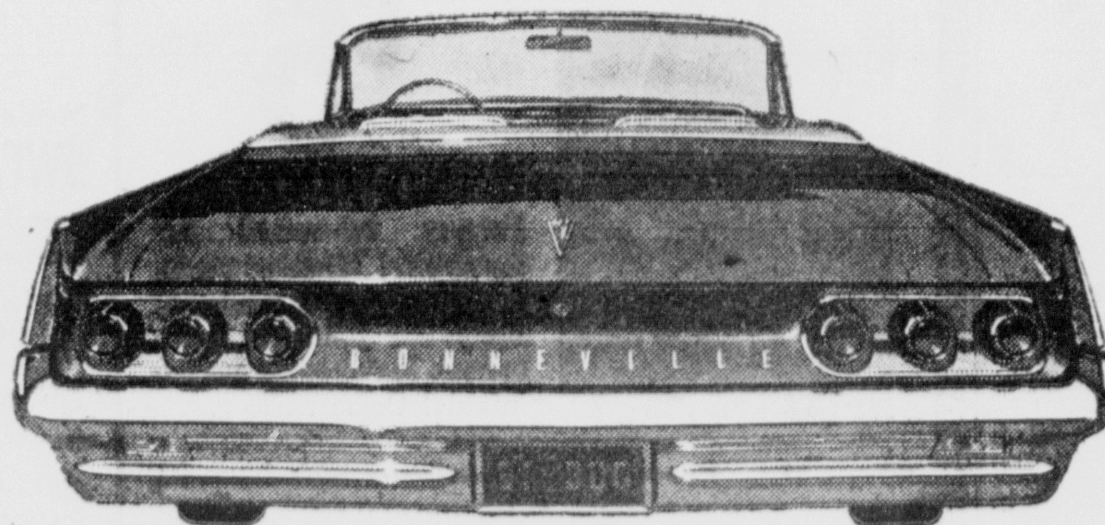

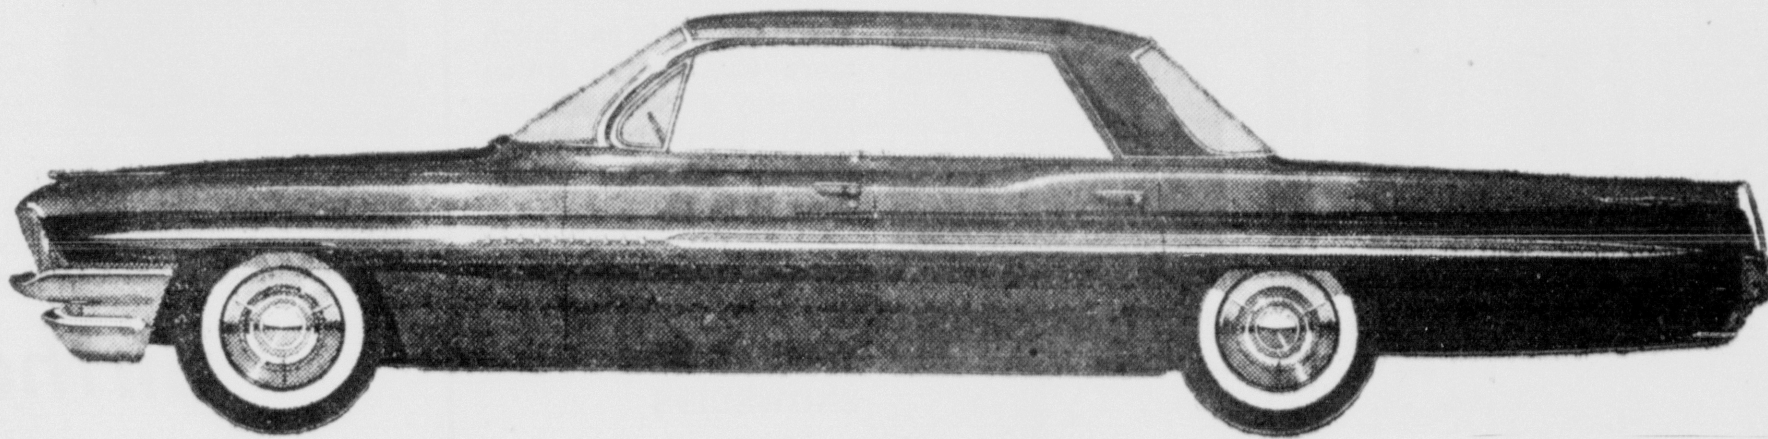

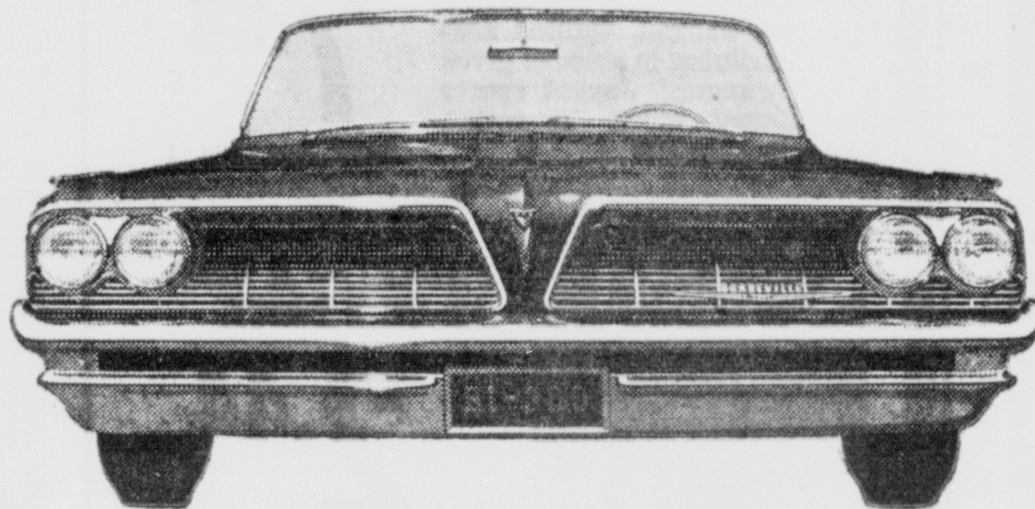

The Vice President and his wife, Pat, will arrive at Burke Lakefront Airport at 5 p. m. and ride in a motorcade through downtown Cleveland before their appearance at public hall. Rep. Frances P. Bolton of the 22nd district will introduce Nixon, who is scheduled to speak at 8:30 p. m.

Fireside Thieves

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP) — Hamden police are looking for a fire-place. It was reported stolen from a neighborhood yard sometime between midnight and 7:30 a. m.

No one heard the thieves move the 600-pound fireplace nor the several deck chairs also reported missing.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. Bertha Gildersleeve, S. Court St., says she will never again bother to save seeds. Some saved-over marigolds turned out to be mangy-looking single flowers that were not worth the space they took up.

As Floyd Shaw at Washington and Mill Streets says, "You never can tell about hybrid seeds. Sometimes they come true and sometimes they don't."

Mrs. Frank Turner, Watt St., has the seed-saving habit. All her straw flowers were from saved-over seed given her by her daughter, Mrs. Lester Reid of Chillicothe and a sister from Largo, Fla.

Mrs. Ed Wallace has a theory about seed saving. She believes that the seed saved from the central flower of a plant produces the best flowers the next year.

Shelby Teegardin, Watt St., saved enough red salvia seed to border his garden walk one summer.

SO YOU just never can tell about saved-over seeds. I do know, however, that many experts advise buying the best seeds obtainable, the idea being that raising a flower from seed is considerable work and it is wasted effort to grow a worthless flower as Mrs. Gildersleeve will testify.

The Kirby Drakes of Route 4, have the last laugh. People always tease them about the weeds along their driveway. Actually they are wild asters of many different types and very beautiful now.

Mrs. Lloyd Petty has been threatening to pull a big weed out of my garden. I was delighted when she visited me the other day so she could see it was a very showy magenta aster.

Mrs. Petty was potting up periwinkle and ornamental peppers and she brought up some samples for the Pickaway Garden Club plant sale to be held in connection with the Pumpkin Show Flower Sale.

Get those flowers and plants potted up now that you're planning to bring inside. Actually it should have been done in September.

We have not yet seen any of the garden-grown harvest giants that are supposed to be like football mums. I wish now that I had purchased a couple.

There's a new lilac pastel rose being introduced by Conard and Pyle this fall. It is Simone. It is a big tea rose and will measure about six or seven inches across.

Mrs. Joe Valentine's tuberose are just beginning to bloom. She got them out rather late.

The Joe Valentines have miniature zinnias and nasturtiums that are giving them considerable pleasure now.

For some reason it seems to me like zinnias ought not to get leaf spot. Zinnias are such a common folksy flower they ought not to have aristocratic diseases like roses.

Koreans Seeking More U.S. Aid

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean government has asked the United States to provide 400 million dollars during the next five years in special economic aid to help tide it over economic difficulties, Seoul newspapers reported Tuesday.

A government note requesting the extra aid was handed to the director of the American aid mission here last week, the reports said, quoting government officials.

It's hard enough to spray roses when a gardener knows that he has considerable money invested in them. It's even harder to spray zinnias that only cost 15 cents a packet.

The good old marigolds seem to be the only flowers that are disease proof. Even the grasshoppers don't seem to relish marigolds.

Alice Ada May has had considerable success with her new planting of roses this year. This is Miss May's first experience with roses in their present location. She lives on W. Union St. at Scioto St.

The Japanese Anemones at the M. E. Noggle garden get the same kindly treatment that the roses do. And you have never seen more beautiful anemones. The Noggles have both the pink and white varieties. The anemones are right in with the roses so I imagine they get all the water, the feeding and the spraying that the roses are given.

Some people are digging their dahlias. Myrt Hunter, Whisler, has harvested hers. No doubt Myrt's have bloomed themselves out. She planted them very early in the spring.

Personally, I'm a great wild flower picker. You may well believe I wanted to bring home some fringed gentians. However, I used great restraint and brought home only eight.

Mrs. Orion King, W. High St., believes her magnolia tree to be more heavily laden with seed pods than ever before. The pods are a shocking pink and when they burst open they reveal bright shiny red seeds.

Clarabelle Spangler had her fill of the art of flower arrangement when she lived in Florida. She tells a rather hilarious story about the time she and a friend were responsible for a table setting in some sort of garden club to-do.

BY THE time the girls had finished the arrangement both they and the calla lilies were limp as wet spaghetti. And according to Clarabelle, she's had it. No more arrangements for her!

Mary Denman, Northridge Road, has autumn crocus in bloom. These big lavender crocus remind me of magic lilies. The foliage dies down in early summer and the blossoms come suddenly and as surprise. This autumn flower deserves to be used more frequently.

Fabled Fringed Gentians Found in Pickaway County

Don't tell Floyd Bartley, Pickaway County naturalist, that in all your life you have only seen one fringed gentian and that was a captive of the education division in a flower show.

And don't tell him that you'd love above anything else to see blue gentians so frequently alluded to in poetry, blooming in their native habitat.

Because although fringed gentians are very rare in Pickaway County, Floyd Bartley will conjure up a place where they grow.

And you'll find yourself risking life and limb in search of these fabled flowers.

BARTLEY found a place where gentians grow in quiet profusion and that place proved to be a hanging bog along the high banks of Deer Creek.

If you are not sure what a hanging bog is, it's a place where you'll have to hang on for dear life or you'll roll down the precipice into the creek.

It's more than that. It's a bog on a steep hillside, a place where

Label Daffodils at Plant Time

DAFFODILS — Nothing is lovelier than a naturalized planting of daffodils. These hardy bulbs lend themselves beautifully to mass planting. But if you are ambitious to exhibit daffodils your choice bulbs should be planted where they can be carefully labeled.

Editor's Note — This is the second of two articles by Mrs. Reginald Blue of Frankfort who incidentally is a Pickaway Garden Club member. In this article she gives the "would-be exhibitor" some valuable tips on labeling and choosing show daffodils.

By MRS. REGINALD BLUE
When you pick up a copy of a Daffodil Flower Show Schedule you will find 11 divisions. Each division describes the characteristics, which distinguish each group.

Reference will be made constantly to the "trumpet" and the "perianth segments". The "trumpet" is the central tubular part of the flower. It is also spoken of as the "cup", the "crown" and the "eye", depending on the size and shape.

The "perianth segments" are the commonly called "petals", which are six in number and surround the tubular part. Size relationship between these two parts, color, form and number of flowers to the stem make up the divisions and the sub-divisions.

At a Daffodil Show there will be a Classification Committee, members of which will have a copy of Classified list. The important fact for you to know is the name of your flower. Then the committee can place it properly, by consulting the list.

TO BE ON the safe side, it is advisable to have a copy yourself. As you know there is always confusion at the entry table, and you might have to fill out your own entry card. Another word to the wise is to mark your plantings correctly, so when the spring comes you will know, what is coming up where.

When we cut daffodils for the show we mark the name on the stem with a ball point pen. If we don't, by the time we get back to the house we forget which is which.

You will understand what we mean, when you begin to read the descriptions and the lists in your catalogues. There are hundreds of varieties. Your Garden Editor has asked that we list a few of these varieties, which have proven successful on the show table and in the garden.

The following list of classified varieties is taken from Judge Carey Quinn's book, the Midwest Regional report and from our own plantings. The blooming period extends from four to six weeks. You will have varieties which bloom early, mid-season and late. We have not attempted to list the individual sub-divisions. It would make the list too long.

Division 1 (trumpets) King Alfred, Mt. Hood, Flower Carpet; Division 2 (large cup) Carlton, Polindra, Duke of Windsor; Division 3 (small cup) Kansas, Foggy

Dew, Firetail; Division 4 (doubles) Mary Copeland, Cheerfulness;

Division 5 (triflorus) Thalia, Treasamble; Division 6 (cyclamineus) Peeping Tom, March Sunshine; Division 7 (jonquilla) Golden Sceptre, Topaz; Division 8 (tazettas) Cragford, Martha Wash; Division 9 (poeticus) Actae, Red Rim; Division 10 (miniatures — wild species) triandrus albus; Division 11 Not otherwise classified, includes the Pinks — Mrs. R. O. Backhouse, Pink Glory.

Literature and news reports from the American Daffodil Society will be of great assistance to you in selecting and buying, as well as in cultural and landscape practices.

The bulbs range in price from $1.50 per dozen for the miniatures, to $42 a bulb for the rare Empress of Ireland. The Empress, so they say, is the most impressive, the most magnificent, large white trumpet introduced to date.

Last year it was $60, the year before $80, per bulb.

So maybe in time it will be like King Alfred, available for all gardeners to enjoy.

We hope that this list will be of help to you and that you will have fun "growing and showing."

Hey Gardeners! Don't Play The Field, Pick a Specialty

So you don't have a specialty? You've been an earnest gardener for 15 years but you just can't make up your mind which flower you like the most.

Tut! Tut! That's no way to do. It's alright for a young gardener to play the field but veteran gardeners should long since have settled down to one specialty.

Be an expert in at least one field. It's more fun that way.

You'll be surprised what a specialty does for you in the gardening world. It's a status symbol. It's a sign of gardening maturity. It makes you a more interesting gardener and it's a pleasure.

COMPARE the veteran gardener with a specialty and the gardener who has not yet made up his mind. It tells in his garden.

The garden of the specialist will have a dominant keynote. The garden whose owner is without a specialty (be he ever so green-thumbed) is a higglety-pigglety collection of everything.

About five years ago I flirted with the Chrysanthemum Society. Had I settled down with chrysanthemums I'd have many varieties now instead of six. And some of them might be top notchers because the flower society people do a lot of swapping.

For a brief season I thought I'd be a daffodil specialist but I just couldn't by-pass the tulips. Now I have only a few of both.

I've been gardening here at the farm for 20 years. Think what I'd know now if I'd specialized when I first arrived. Think of the daffodils I might have accumulated.

Pick yourself a specialty. Start with a few plants this very fall. Add a few each season. Join the National flower society of your chosen specialty. There may be a chapter as close as Columbus.

FIND OUT who else is interested in this locality in your specialty. Experiment, learn, swap and talk your specialty. And start now. Pick what interests you the most. If you like all flowers so much you can't decide, make a choice anyway.

It's more fun if you specialize in something lots of other people in the vicinity are interested in. Take roses for instance. You'll have a ball talking roses around here because so many people grow roses.

As far as I know now there are no county flower societies. As a matter of fact I think local chapters of flower societies would be well supported. It would not have to be a big group if members were keenly interested.

Anyway I am all for specializing. So help me! By the time spring comes I am going to have settled down with the flower of my choice.

It may be iris, or daffodils or peonies or oriental poppies or African violets or chrysanthemums. I'm getting nowhere playing the field. The time has come when I'm going to pick my specialty. I'm heading for maturity, garden-wise.

OFF TO A GOOD START - - By Alan Maver

Tigers Regroup for Battle With Invading Hurricane

Prime objective for the Circleville Tiger football squad Friday will be to take the wind out of the visiting Wilmington Hurricane.

The Wilmington force will blow into town sporting two straight wins and the idea of making Circleville another victim of the blast.

The Hurricane also will be seeking revenge for a 38-14 defeat administered by CHS on the Hurricane home grounds last season. Circleville, pounded 20-0 Friday at Washington C. H., will center its attention this week on devising ways and means to stop the Hurricane, plus finding a potent scoring recipe for themselves.

OTHER than a knee bruise suffered Friday by Center Steve Helwage, the Tigers appear to be in good physical condition.

Coaches Carl Benhase, Dick Fisher, John Adler and Jack Weikert are devoting attention this week to revamping the CHS defense which was hit hard by the Blue Lions Friday. The locals staved off several Washington drives, especially in the first half, but couldn't contain all of them.

Scouting reports indicate Wilmington will employ a hard running game similar to Washington's in addition to the throwing of Quarterback Jim Kidd and the receiving of End Ken Nicholson.

Circleville hopes to retaliate with the running of Garold Dade, Fred Moore and Phil Wing, plus the passing of Chuck Waple.

Little Tigers Here Thursday

Local Gridders Seek 2nd Straight Triumph

Circleville's Junior High football squad goes for win No. 2 Thursday when Lancaster General Sherman comes here for a return match.

The Tiny Tigers of Coaches Paul Sarchet and Ralph Starkey officially opened the season with a 22-0 decision at Sherman last week. However, the Fairfield County crew can be expected to give the pint-sized Roundtowners a stiffer test Thursday.

The kickoff is set for 6 p. m. on the varsity field, with most of the play scheduled to be held under the lights.

The miniature Tigers were off and running on the kickoff last week as halfback Jimmie Wood hauled in the boot and rambled 70 yards for a touchdown. The Sherman squad never recovered from the blow as Halfback Howard Dade reeled off two more TD's in the following minutes.

COACHES Sarchet and Starkey probably will rely on the same lineup which opened at Lancaster. Seeing heavy action on offense and defense were John Magill, Chip Harrod, Wood, Dade, Mick Tomlinson, Jack Martin, Jeff Ankrom, Bob Smith, Doug Roth, Ronald Smith, Chet Hill, Dave Iery, Dick Samuel, Don Fausnaugh, George Ramey, Glen Easterday, Ron Smith, Charles Martin and Terry Campbell did not see action due to a sore throat.

The squad is bolstered by an ample supply of capable replacements. The subs turned in a solid job at Lancaster last week.

Sarchet and Starkey said they were pleased with the squad's first showing, but cautioned that more work is needed, especially in carrying out assignments and tackling.

Ex-Mahoning County Prosecutor Succumbs

CLEVELAND (AP)—William A. Ambrose, 73, who was Mahoning County prosecuting attorney from 1937 until 1956, died Tuesday in Cleveland Clinic, where he had been a patient for two weeks. A Democrat, Ambrose easily won re-election four times, but lost in 1956 when Frank R. Franko, then a municipal judge, ran as an independent and split the Democratic vote, enabling Republican Thomas A. Bell to win. Franko now is mayor.

Expert Picks Illini To Defeat Bucks

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The brand new crystal ball, complete with radar and other electronics devices, could correctly forecast Iowa's upset of Northwestern last week and could perceive other trouble spots for the favorites, but it was far from perfect.

The weekend's record was 36 correct selections on the college football card and 16 wrong ones for a .694 average. The season's total now is 106-35 for .752.

This week's picks:

Syracuse over Holy Cross: If Harvard could defeat Holy Cross what do you think Ernie Davis and his plamates will do to the Crusaders?

Mississippi over Vanderbilt: The Rebels are getting used to these night games, and are after a strong conference showing to make up for the Memphis State scare.

Michigan State over Iowa: The Hawkeye sophomores have speed, but Michigan State has too many other resources.

Illinois over Ohio State: The Buckeyes haven't been scored on this season but that record goes into the discard. Joe Rutgens sticks out in that Illini line.

Navy over Southern Methodist: They meet in the first bowl game of the season—the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk, Va., Joe Bellino, Navy ace, will serve the Mustangs on the half-shell.

Purdue over Wisconsin: The Boilermakers won't let their runaway victory over Notre Dame spoil them but this time they win by the margin of a single touchdown.

Elsewhere: Arkansas over Baylor; Arkansas over Baylor; Kansas over Iowa State; Air Force over Missouri; Washington over Stanford; Minnesota over Northwestern; Texas over Oklahoma; Army over Penn State; Florida over Rice.

Police Have Suspects

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police had a good idea of the identity of eight juveniles believed responsible for $4,000 damage at a housing unit. The vandals damaged new concrete, tiles, windows and splattered paint around. But in the new concrete, police said, the absentmindedly inscribed their names or initials.

Casey Likely To Stay with Yanks in '61

But Major Shakeups In Making for Other Big League Teams

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Casey Stengel probably will remain as manager of the New York Yankees, and Ralph Houk, widely considered Stengel's successor, probably will become the manager of the Detroit Tigers.

This managerial turnabout shaped up today in the wake of the firing of Manager Bob Elliott by Kansas City, Lou Boudreau's resignation at Chicago and Joe Gordon's walkout at Detroit.

Other reports circulating at World Series headquarters were:

1. Gordon will manage the Athletics. (This is close to being a fact).

2. Bob Scheffing, just resigned as a Milwaukee Braves' coach, has the inside track to succeed Tom Sheehan as manager of the San Francisco Giants. (The only thing positive is that Sheehan will not return in 1961.)

3. Bill Rigney, replaced by Sheehan as Giant manager last May, is a leading candidate for the managing job with the Chicago Cubs. (Fact: Rigney has applied for the Detroit job).

Gordon, who quit the Tigers suddenly Monday, was to confer with Kansas City General Manager Parke Carroll today. A Kansas City spokesman said, "Unless Joe asks for the moon, he's got the job. It will be a 2-year contract."

Houk, regarded in New York as heir apparent to Stengel's throne when the 70-year-old wizard of the dugouts quits, apparently has given up hope of ever succeeding to the old man.

"I'm receptive to a good offer," he said. "I'm getting older and I can't afford to let too many more years slip by."

A year ago, Houk, 41, rejected a bid to manage the Athletics, preferring to remain with the Yankees as a coach.

Houk's decision to consider employment elsewhere was taken as a sign that Stengel would remain with the Yankees.

"I think Casey will stay," said a top New York official, "at least I hope he does. Two months ago, I would have bet anything he would quit. I have changed my mind."

Golf Digest magazine, which keeps a record of holes-in-one, predicts 8,400 of them will be recorded this year. The 1959 tally was 5,279.

'KIDNAPED' CHILD RETURNED—Dorothy Patterson, 5, is held in arms of her adoptive parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patterson of Trenton, Ga., in Cleveland after a judge ruled she be returned to them by Mr. and Mrs. James Broyles, Dorothy's actual parents. Mrs. Broyles lies on courtroom floor in a faint over the decision. She and her husband could face kidnap charges over the accusation that they took her from the Pattersons in Trenton at gunpoint and brought her to Cleveland.

3 Ohioans Accidentally Killed Thus Far in Squirrel Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three persons—all teenagers—have been accidentally shot and killed while hunting squirrels since the season opened in Ohio Sept. 12, the division of wildlife reports. Two of the fatalities were in wildlife District Six (Southwestern Ohio), the other in District 4 (southeastern Ohio).

Since the year began, there have been six accidental deaths in 25 mishaps the division said.

The wildlife division says squirrel hunting success in southeastern and eastern Ohio is below pe-season expectations.

Some hunters say the reason is the nut crop is good this year and the squirrels are well-distributed.

Although Ohio may never become a good trout fishing state, the wildlife divisions says, plantings of the fish have been termed fairly successful.

In May Rainbow Trout were stocked in the Mahoning River below Berlin Dam. The trout, in addition to a good rate of survival, also have put on good growth. A census taken by Earl Ressler, Mahoning County game protector, showed a number of trout caught by fishermen which averaged eight inches. One trout grew five inches in 104 days. The census showed most of the trout were taken on worms.

A Burr Oak Lake (Morgan County) fishing contest has been won by a 79-year-old angler, even before the contest is officially over.

Jon Drumm, former mayor of Somerset, was presented the first prize—an outboard motor—before the contest ended. He caught more than 650 pounds of bluegills, during the contest, and landed more than 2,500 fish, most of them bluegills, during the season. Drumm uses long telescopic poles and simple equipment. His most productive baits are meal, catpaw and horse weed worms.

Five eastern and southeastern Ohio counties are slated to receive 3,500 14- to 17-week-old Reeves' division of wildlife says.

Selected because of the extensive stands of woodland, the five Belmont, Monroe and Washington. Half of the 700 birds to be released in each county will go on public lands.

Bass are reported to be hitting hard on the Muskingum River now that the weather has cooled. Clifford Winstanley, Washington County game protector, said that on Sept. 22, he radioed a report that fishermen were making terrific catches of bass at Lake Chute Dam. He estimated that from 400 to 600 bass had been taken in two weeks, most of them on artificial lures. In addition, 40 walleyes were caught.

Monday marked the opening of another Ohio gunning season as woodchuck and Wilson's snipe became legal game. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, eastern standard time. Woodcocks are found in wet, second growth woods and near swamps. Snipe are usually found on mud flats near larger bodies of water or in wet meadows.

Golfing

with ALEX MORRISON
Teacher of Champions

Handsome Jay Hebert should prove a popular PGA champion and a definite aid in raising standards in playing technique.

Jay Hebert Is Credit to Golf

Jay Hebert wrote, before winning the 1960 PGA championship: "Dear Alex: I am playing much better than my scores indicate. I've just been taking too many chances and three-putting too many greens. I'm on the right track now with a few good things to work on. Thanks again for your interest in me."

My main interest has been to help him make the most of his shot-playing skill, in a sense, get the most out of himself as well as golf.

Since Jay is of exceptionally sound mind, good character and disposition, it's not surprising that he has become an outstanding student of human behavior on the course. He should come up with findings about the mental side of the game that would be very helpful to all golfers.

Fortunately his study will have ample scope and financing through his popularity as a champion.

GE, Union Approve Contract at Norwood

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Electrical Workers Union and General Electric Co. have come to terms on a new contract covering 285 union members at a GE distribution department center in Norwood. But 42 union members are still on strike at a GE appliance service shop in downtown Cincinnati. The distribution workers assented to the new contract Tuesday and a company spokesman said its terms were similar to three-year agreements completed last week with the United Auto Workers and the machinists union.

Plan Consolidation

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of U.S. Industries Inc. plan to consolidate its Chicago lathe-making division with its Hamilton printing press plant. A spokesman said Tuesday engineering, sales and advertising for the lathe division will also be centered at the Hamilton facility.

Clermont Prosecutor Asked To Make Probe

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—The Clermont County Election Board wants the county prosecutor to study the amended statement of election expenses filed by County Commissioner Con Ison. Ison, on advice of his lawyer, refused to answer questions about the statement at a meeting Tuesday night and the board said "there are indications of violations of the election laws." Ison's statement, filed Friday, showed primary campaign contributions of $450 by three county builders. His first statement showed no contributions.

Mine Union Has Kind Words For New Federal Labor Law

CINCINNATI (AP)—The United Mine Workers Union claimed Wednesday that use of a beneficial proviso in an otherwise "vicious" federal labor law is helping the union rebuild its depleted membership.

UMW officers had a few kind words for the Landrum-Griffin Act, which Congress adopted in 1959 over UMW objections, in a report to the Union's nearly 2,000 delegates at their 43rd convention here.

UMW president Thomas Kennedy and fellow union chiefs blasted the 1947 Taft-Hartley law and the new labor control statute in harsh terms, saying the latest enactment "expanded the trend of fascism in the United States."

But the UMW officers praised a section of the Landrum-Griffin Act which repealed a Taft-Hartley requirement. This had stipulated union leaders must submit oaths forswearing Communism before their organizations could use the National Labor Relations Board to obtain employee bargaining rights.

Until this requirement was repealed a year ago, the UMW had been unable to get NLRB elections among employees because UMW officers refused to submit such oaths.

Applications for NROTC Training Available at CHS

Applications are now available at Circleville High School for the Navy's annual competitive examination for its nation-wide Regular NROTC college training program.

The mental examination is scheduled Dec. 10, 1960 and is open to all high school seniors and graduates who can qualify. According to the Navy Department, the deadline for receipt of all applicants is Nov. 18, 1960.

Male citizens of the United States who have reached the 17th anniversary of birth and have not passed the 21st anniversary of birth on July 1, 1961 are eligible to apply for the Navy college aptitude test. Those contemplating a college course which takes five years to complete must have passed the 20th anniversary of birth on July 1, 1961.

Persons attaining a qualifying score will be given the Navy's rigid midshipman physical examination next Friday. From the pool of qualified candidates remaining in competition, approximately 1600 young men will be selected for appointment as midshipmen and will enroll in one of the 52 colleges of their choice where a Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit is located.

THE Regular NROTC is maintained for one purpose — to train and educate young men for ultimate commissioning as career officers in the Navy and Marine Corps. Successful candidates will start their Naval Careers in colleges and universities across the country in 1961.

After a normal college education and substantial Navy training, graduates will be commissioned as regular officers in the Navy or Marine Corps for active duty with the United States Fleet throughout the world. For those who apply and qualify, assignment to flight training will open new careers in naval aviation.

In addition to the normal college curriculum, midshipmen in the Regular NROTC will study a plan of study in naval science. All tuition, fees, and books will be furnished by the Navy, plus an annual retainer pay of $600 for a maximum of four years. Regular part of three summers on training cruises with various Fleet units.

Tools, Gas Thefts Investigated Here

Dan DeLong, Route 56, near Laurelville, told the sheriff's department yesterday that tools valued at $30 were taken from his combine.

DeLong said 10 gallons of gasoline also were drained from a tractor. Deputy Homer Adams investigated.

Gerald Starkey, 346 Walnut St., told Deputy Marion Hoover about five gallons of gasoline were taken from his car parked at the General Electric lot on E. Ohio St.

Applications for this program leading to a career in the naval service are available from Richard Snouffer, assistant principal at Circleville High School, Richard Fisher at CHS or from the nearest U. S. Navy Recruiting Station.

Snouffer and Fisher have been provided with specific information concerning the NROTC program and will furnish bulletins to any interested student.

School Board Meets Monday With Teachers

In a brief meeting last night the Circleville Board of Education planned two meetings and approved purchase of three electric typewriters.

The board will meet at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday to inspect a proposed elementary school site along Nicholas Drive. A general teachers meeting has been called for 3 p. m. Monday so that the board can explain the $50,000 school bond issue to Circleville City School faculty.

Purchase of three electric typewriters was OK'd by a split vote. The typewriters will be used in a business machines course. They cost $320 each and will be purchased over a three-year period.

Savings Bonds Show Increase

Judge William D. Radcliff, Pickaway County Chairman of Ohio Savings Bonds Division of the US Treasury, announced that the August sales of Series E and H Bonds totaled $50,625 for Pickaway County.

A new high mark has been reached in the National total of Series E and H Bonds held by the American public, $42.8 billion.

August sales of Series E and H Bonds in Ohio exceeded $25 million for a four million dollar gain over August, 1959.

Radcliff remarked that this great amount of spending potential marks a new milestone in the history of the Savings Bond Program, a program which, since 1941, has helped revitalize the practice of thrift, to the lasting advantage of every community.

Robber Shoots 3, but Holdup Attempt Fails

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An armed man walked into a supermarket in suburban Whitehall Tuesday night and tried to rob the store. A few minutes later, three employees of the store were wounded, and the gunman fled without any money.

A half-hour later a man was apprehended and taken to Whitehall police headquarters for questioning.

Officials gave this account of the incident:
A man armed with a pistol walked into the store in the Town and Country shopping center.
He tried to hold up store manager Dwight E. Figlestadler, 32, of Whitehall. But Figlestadler shoved the robber's gun aside, and the holdup man fled out the door.
Faglestadler and two carryout boys—Roger Barrett, 17, and Malcolm Stricklin Jr., 17, both of Whitehall—pursued the gunman.
They spotted him going into a hardware store nearby. The gunman turned in the entranceway of the store, and fired at them, hitting all three. They were taken to a hospital, where they were listed in satisfactory condition.
